Mark II :

The next generation of kettlebells with a smooth finish meaning less friction for your grip. These high quality kettlebells are ash-mud cast resulting in a much smoother, polished finish, and more resistant to rusting. Made of cast iron. This is the choice of beginners and serious kettlebell lifters looking for durable, quality training equipment.

Pro Series:

Made to Girevoy Sport Competition style. They are made of mild steel to a standard size and are hollow depending on weight. These are made with a thicker handles (35mm dia) meaning you get a tougher grip and forearm strength. Mild steel is less brittle and resists cracking. These can be used for competition preparation.
